

Insists a Tax Cut Needed to Help Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said today a quick and significant tax cut is essential to correct what he called the deplorably high level of unemployment.

Wirtz spoke at a conference of businessmen, union officials and other elements of fiscal and monetary policy. Participants, after hearing Wirtz, entered into a closed debate.

The labor secretary said that while inflation, fiscal irresponsibility, and international bankruptcy are vices the American economy "simply cannot afford" neither can we afford unemployment. The latest unemployment count was 3.3 million in October with the seasonally adjusted rate pegged at 5.5 per cent.

Wirtz indicated belief that steps to curb unemployment, including a tax slash and public health, education and other government-financed programs, should not be withheld out of fear of inflation or other consequences.

Wirtz said he doesn't accept the idea put out by the administration a year ago that reducing the unemployment rate to 4 per cent, is an acceptable interim goal.

The labor secretary said that if the economy is put fully to work, with full use of now idle facilities, "the unemployment problem will take care of itself."

The Kennedy administration was clearly hopeful it would get a general endorsement from the conference for a tax cut. Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's economic advisers, gave notice Wednesday night that Kennedy already has made his basic decision on how to jog the economy.

"The basic economic case for a tax cut," Heller said, "rests on clear economic principles, now well known, repeatedly demonstrated, and widely accepted."

"To remove the dual tax drag on the economy—both the drag on markets and drag on incentives—is a central concern of today's economic policy in the Kennedy administration."

He spoke before a special expanded meeting of the President's 21-man Labor-Management Advisory Committee. It was expanded by the invited participation of some 150 other executives, union chiefs, economists and public officials.

Heller rejected the idea, voiced by some members of Congress, that tax reduction has become unthinkable in view of this fiscal year's expected $7.8 billion budget deficit announced on Tuesday. Tax reduction would deepen the red ink.

The committee's speeches—Heller Wednesday night, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today—were open to the press. The debates in between were not.

Heller took off from the assumption that his audience, like himself, considered the present and prospective gains of the economy intolerably slow. The business rise probably will continue during first-half 1963, he said, but without enough steam to reduce unemployment or boost profits.

Then he stated the case for income and corporate tax reduction as a stimulant. Kennedy has announced he will send the new Congress a program for general rate reduction and reform, taking effect—at least in part—on Jan. 1. A gradual reduction, over a year or two, has been hinted by officials.

Lumber Firm to Buy Railway

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—An offer of Georgia Pacific Corporation to purchase the Ashley, Drew and Northern Railway Company for more than $1.6 million has been received by stockholders.

Georgia Pacific, which recently purchased the Crossett Co., offered stockholders $68 a share. About 24,000 shares are outstanding.

W. B. Anderson, president of the railway, said it has an annual payroll of about $500,000 going to some 80 persons. The line, founded in 1912, runs from Crossett to Monticello and hauls mainly pulpwood and lumber products.

The Georgia Pacific letter said the office remains open until Nov. 23.

The firm announced earlier it had exercised its option to buy shares of the railroad held by the Crossett family.

Forest City Lumber Plant Hit by Fire

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Fire destroyed the Vaccaro-Grob-meyer Lumber Co. in Forrest City late Wednesday and firemen were still fighting the fire early today.

Forrest City Fire Chief Leon Gadberry said, however, that the fire was brought under control at 2 a.m. today and he had no fears of it spreading. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Gadberry was still on his feet, after more than eight hours of supervising the fire fight. He suffered a broken foot while directing fire fighting operations when he fell over a hose.

A damage estimate was not available from the lumber company owners Gazola and Leo Vaccaro. Several million board feet of lumber was destroyed along with a large amount of oak and pine flooring, sheetrock, and framing.

Gadberry said fire departments at Brinkley and Wynne sent men and equipment to help fight the fire. All of the firefighters stayed on duty until shortly before dawn today.

The fire chief said he had men at the site of the blaze and that, while the blaze was under control, flames are still quite high.

He said strong southerly winds apparently aided the fire.

The building, one of the oldest in Forrest City, covered a quarter-block in the downtown area.

India Has Launched Offensive

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian troops have launched their strongest offensive in the undeclared Himalayan border war with the Communist Chinese, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

He said the attacks were carried out on the northeastern frontier and that an unknown number of Chinese were killed.

The Indian forces attacked Chinese positions near Wanglong, about 15 miles from the Burma border, and carried out offensive actions against a Red-held village near Jang, near the Bhutan border.

The spokesman said there were no Indian losses in the attacks, opened Wednesday.

Latest reports said the fighting was still going on around Wanglong. The Indian troops consisted of "a strong patrol" the spokesman said.

"A small patrol raided a village held by the Chinese aggressors a few miles from Jang," the spokesman said. Jang is just below the main Indian defense line on the Se Pass in the area of China's main thrust into India east of the Bhutan border.

The spokesman said U.S. and British weapons are in the hands of Indian troops facing the Chinese. But he was unable to say whether these arms have been used in any action so far.

Would Close Confederate Home at L.R.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus recommended to the Legislative Council today that the state close its Confederate Home at the end of this fiscal year.

The governor suggested that the five remaining residents at the institution be moved to private nursing homes with the state providing $200 a month each for their care as long as they live.

The building which now houses the home would be turned over to the state Blind School under an agreement made when the structure was built on the school grounds eight years ago.

Faubus appeared before the council as it was about to consider the Confederate Home's budget request for the next biennium. The home had an appropriation of $135,530 last year and had asked an appropriation of $130,105 for each of the next two years.

Faubus said best private home care would cost the state only $12,000 a year.

The home first was constructed at Sweet Home for Confederate veterans. Later widows of veterans were admitted and still later, it was opened to daughters of veterans. Four of the five remaining residents are veterans' daughters.

The 1961 legislature passed a bill abolishing the home, but Faubus vetoed it. The move to close the home was expected since members of the Legislative Council visited it last week and found the state was paying 13 employees to care for only five residents.

Highway to 2nd Dam Proposed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Highway Commission is expected to decide Tuesday whether plans of Army Engineers for Dam No. 2 across the Arkansas River south of Arkansas Post should include a highway bridge.

Estimated cost of the bridge, which would be the first to span the river between its mouth and Pine Bluff, is 5 million. Included in the estimate is widening of another bridge across the Arkansas Post Canal and improvement of about 16 miles of roads to primary standards.

The Commission will consider at a later date, Engineer costs estimates on bridges across three other dams on the Arkansas River: Lock and Dam No. 3, near Grady; Lock and Dam No. 4, south of the Cotton Belt railway bridge at Pine Bluff and Lock and Dam No. 5, to be built near Toad Suck Ferry west of Conway.

The Arkansas Post bridge would provide a new route for state Highway 1, which now crosses the river by ferry at Pendleton.

Ashdown, Dierks Men Indicted

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has arrested a Dierks banker and an Ashdown used car dealer on charges of using the United States mail to defraud.

The FBI said Wednesday Warner Howard Frith, president of the Dierks Telewindow of the Horatio State Bank, and Van Adams of Ashdown, were arrested at their homes Tuesday night.

A four-count indictment had been returned against the two by the U.S. Grand Jury in Fort Smith. They were released on $2,500 bond each.

A date for their arraignment before U.S. District Court in Texarkana has not been set. They are accused of obtaining $25,000 by fraud.

Adams wrote checks on an account he had with the First National Bank of Ashdown and mailed them to the bank at Dierks, where he had no account, the indictment said. It alleged that Frith cashed the checks but failed to make entries in the books showing the drafts had been honored.

Freighter Loaded With Explosives Burning at Sea

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—Fire today swept a Greek freighter loaded with commercial explosives and the 25-man crew abandoned the ship in raging seas 300 miles northeast of Bermuda, the Coast Guard reported.

Gale winds whipped the Atlantic as the crew gave up the fight to save the 7,107-ton freighter, the Captain George, bound from New Orleans, La., to Port Said, Egypt.

The tanker Virginia, flying the Liberian flag, stood by as the ship's crew went over the side. The Coast Guard reported waves of 33 feet in the area.

Another vessel—identified only as the schooner Curlew—was caught in the storm 90 miles northwest of Bermuda and the Coast Guard said the crew of six abandoned the two-masted sailing ship. The schooner had reported loss of its rudder.

The Captain George was loaded with 400 tons of commercial explosives at St. Marys, Ga., before its departure last Friday.

The 450-foot long vessel, whose home port is Piraeus, Greece, also carried a cargo of sulphur, flour and rice. The explosives are the type used in oil well drilling.

The cargo specifically included nitro carbonite, used both as an explosive and as fertilizer, and blasting caps.

The freighter caught fire after an explosion Wednesday night.

The crew battled the spreading flames through the night in the storm that kicked up some waves reported as high as 60 feet.

A U.S. Coast Guard plane circling overhead had radioed at 9 a.m. the fire was out of control.

The freighter is leased by the Blue Star Steamship Company of Kingston, Ga., the Coast Guard said.

At 9 a. m. the crew was still reported safe and "in good condition."

There was no indication of the cause of the explosion.

Seas were running 30 to 35 feet in the area, with some waves up to 60 feet, the Coast Guard said.

The ship was reported taking heavy seas over an upper deck. Visibility was one mile.

A U.S. Air Force plane from Bermuda took up a patrol overhead after two Coast Guard planes returned to Bermuda to refuel.

They had relieved a British aircraft that had circled the ship for several hours.

The Captain George sent its first SOS at 10:34 Wednesday night. Early today the ship reported the situation looked "more promising" after the crew jettisoned some of the explosives from the after deck.

The ship's captain said, however, that the dangerous cargo remained on the forward deck.

There was no immediate word on casualties or the cause of the explosion.

The Liberian freighter Virginia was expected to reach the Captain George about 8:30 a.m.

The tanker Deborah was headed for the scene from about 125 miles away. The U.S. Navy radar picket ship Outpost was due in the area about 9 a.m., and the Coast Guard cutter Mendota was en route from Bermuda.

An amphibious Coast Guard Albatross plane reached the stricken freighter at 2:15 a.m. but was unable to land because of the stormy seas. The Albatross relieved a British Overseas Airways airliner that had interrupted its flight from Bermuda to London and established communications with the Captain George.

The Captain George, a World War II Liberty ship, left New Orleans Nov. 3 for Mediterranean ports.

Her holds were loaded with rice and flour. Most of the dangerous cargo—reported to be dynamite, sulphur and nitrocarbon nitrate, a low-grade dynamite—was stored on deck, the Coast Guard said.

Russia Places Too Many Ifs on Plane Deal

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has sent President Kennedy, offer to pull Soviet jet bombers out of Cuba but attached so many "ifs" that a Cuban settlement is not within sight, authoritative sources said early today.

Khrushchev's proposal, it was learned, was received several days ago, and is being discussed at negotiations—presumably in New York where U.S. and Soviet representatives have been trying to hammer out an agreement.

Exactly what conditions the Soviet premier attached to his offer were not disclosed.

But there were so many, the sources said, that they cannot foresee a swift solution to the problems that have been keeping a fire to the Cuban crisis.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet premier's proposal for withdrawing the planes came in one of several letters he and Kennedy exchanged—none of which has been made public—since their weekend letters of Oct. 27-28 drafting an agreement to end the crisis.

Kennedy has insisted that the 750-mile range bombers are in the same offensive weapons category as the Soviet missiles and must also be removed.

U.S. officials have reported that 42 of the missiles were counted on Soviet vessels steaming away from Cuba. That's the number of missiles the Soviets say they had on the island.

Officials here look upon the removal of the missiles (unless some are hidden in caves) as fulfillment of the most important of Khrushchev's promises to Kennedy.

In addition to the bomber issue, Khrushchev has not carried out his promise to allow U.N. inspection of the dismantling of weapons and their bases—which Castro has cried he will not permit.

The United States pressed the Soviet Union on the planes Tuesday during the New York talks. U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson politely but firmly told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that the issue is of great importance and that the United States looks to the Soviet Union for a response.

In effect Stevenson rebuffed Soviet attempts to link to the negotiations to Cuban Prime Minister.

Rules Against School

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Attorney General ruled Wednesday that the Mountain Home School District cannot set rules nullifying the free public school education guaranteed by the state constitution. The district asked Attorney General Frank Holt to comment on a series of regulations designed to discourage student marriages. Three weeks suspension of students who marry was required, to allow them time for adjustment.

ister Fidel Castro's demand for U. S. abandonment of its Guantanamo naval base.

Khrushchev's new proposal for withdrawing the planes undercut on impression the Cubans have been giving that the bombers have already been turned over to them.

However, in the long days of haggling over the bombers, Soviet negotiators never claimed the planes were Castro's property or that the Soviet government would not remove them.

U. S. officials appear confident that in a showdown Khrushchev will make good on his commitment to withdraw offensive weapons and will order the more than two dozen jet bombers carried back to the Soviet Union.

If negotiations on Khrushchev's conditions should break down and the Soviet premier refuses to withdraw the planes, Kennedy will then have to decide on the next move.

Officials say the United States has not set a deadline.

A key to Soviet moves may be held by Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan who has been conferring in Havana with Castro. Mikoyan is believed to be winding up his talks now with plans to leave Havana at almost any time.

His departure is about 10 days overdue. The extension of his stay is interpreted by officials here to mean that his talks with Castro have gone badly.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Lena Maryman, Chief Operator, Hope, Ark.

SOME LONG DISTANCE TIPS

You'll be getting your new telephone directory in a day or two, if you haven't already. It's always interesting to me to thumb through a new directory and find evidence of growth—and changes—that have taken place in Hope and the surrounding area in a year's time.

In addition to changes in the listings, there are some new features in the directory I'd like to point out to you. On the inside of the front cover we've listed what the operator needs to handle a long distance call for you. If you give it to her in the order shown she can start your call on its way quick as a flash.

On most calls you place out of state the operator here in Hope can dial the distant telephone without referring to any records. If you give her the AREA CODE and telephone number. We've explained how to use Area Codes on Page 3 of the new directory, and have listed the Area Codes for a great many cities in the United States and Canada on Pages 3 through 7.

Since service is so much faster if you furnish the distant number and area code, we urge you to keep a list of the people you call frequently, showing numbers and codes. We'll be glad to give you one of our "Blue Books" to keep them in if you'll come by our business office. And ANYTIME you need a distant number, just ask your long distance operator for "information" in the distant city. There's no charge for this service.

We at the Telephone Company want to continue to give you the fastest and best service possible.

Adenauer Kennedy to End Talks

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer winds up two days of White House talks today in apparent agreement with President Kennedy that a Cuban settlement must precede any new Western peace move on Berlin.

The veteran West German leader scheduled a morning meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, a luncheon address, then a final afternoon meeting with Kennedy. This conference will conclude two days of official talks which have ranged over major international issues. Adenauer returns to Bonn Friday.

There were morning and afternoon talks at the White House Wednesday, both American and German authorities reported their chiefs agreed that a solution of the U.S. dispute with the Soviet Union over offensive weapons in Cuba must come before any new initiative by the West on cold war issues.

At a White House lunch, Adenauer praised Kennedy's Cuban action. He said the U.S. stand was a great success for America and a failure for Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

These remarks by the 56-year-old chancellor differed in tone from what he had said in Germany just before leaving for Washington. At that time he had asked how anyone could be sure that all the Soviet missiles had been removed. The crisis, he said, was not over. He was expected to be asked about this today during a lunch at the National Press Club.

The Cuba question and its impact on East-West affairs was the main topic Wednesday as Kennedy and Adenauer first met alone for an hour, then joined their foreign ministers and other principal aides.

While the two agreed a Cuba solution must be a first step before arranging new negotiations on Berlin, their reasoning was not quite the same.

Kennedy has long pushed exploratory talks with the Soviet on the German problem. U.S. authorities believe a Cuban settlement might open the way for East-West negotiations on a wide range of issues. Adenauer has been wary of negotiating on Berlin on the ground that the West stands more to lose than gain.

Kennedy said in a luncheon toast to Adenauer that now is "a time of very great change in the world, both in the West and in the East. An important turning point, possibly, in the history of the relations between East and West."

Wednesday, it was reported, Kennedy and Adenauer agreed that contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by the European allies should be stepped up. It was understood that the discussion dealt with NATO's European members in general, not singling out West Germany.

Bankrupt Firm Sells Equipment

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Purchase of the equipment of Priebe and Sons poultry processing company, a now bankrupt firm that ceased operations Jan. 29, was announced Wednesday by R. Y. Fulbright of Clarksville.

Fulbright said he bought the equipment in Chicago. He already owns the building that housed the processing plant.

The firm employed some 300 persons before it closed. It also owned a hatchery and feed mill in Clarksville with a total employment of about 150. Harry A. Ash of Chicago was named receiver of the firm after it was declared bankrupt.

Fulbright, a cousin of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., did not disclose plans for the plant. He said recently he was negotiating

Just About Everything on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, now so much a part of most people's lives that we can expect to have entertainment on tap from early morning until late at night, is composed of many ingredients.

It is Lucille Ball in a kangaroo suit, spilling hot onion soup in the pouch.

It is the face of a defeated politician, haggard and tired-eyed, in a bitter vaudeville to public life. It is an instructor in front of a blackboard teaching thousands in their living rooms the Russian alphabet.

It is Gen. Lauris Norstad, gesturing and groping for the precise words, explaining the workings of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It is the President of the United States, spelling out coolly and carefully, a clear and present danger to the nation.

It is a colorful portrait of the Five Seek Posts on School Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Five persons, including a Negro physician, are seeking two open posts on the Little Rock school board.

Filing for the posts were Everett Tucker Jr., president; Dr. M. A. Jackson Jr., Dr. Louis E. Tolbert Jr. and Dr. John Allen Harrell Jr.

Tucker is opposed by Mrs. Sarah Murphy, a political newcomer. Harrell, Tolbert and Jackson seek the post that B. Frank Mackey, sheriff-elect of Pulaski County, is abandoning. All seek three-year terms.

The number of filings was a contrast to the situation in 1958 when all of the school board members resigned after Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed schools to prevent integration.

Tucker was one of six men appointed by the county school board to fill the unexpired terms.

Suits Against Smith to Be Heard

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Eighth United States Court of Appeals at St. Louis ruled Wednesday that nine persons who filed a series of lawsuits against Little Rock Police Chief Eugene G. Smith before his death March 12, 1960, are entitled to trial of their cases.

The opinion affirmed Judge Gordon Young, who denied a motion to dismiss the cases in Little Rock in February 1962. City Atty. Joseph C. Kemp, who had filed the motion, appealed.

The decision apparently means that when Judge Young receives notification from the higher court, he will set trial dates for the cases. Robert C. Downie, administrator of Smith's estate, has been substituted for the defendant.

The nine plaintiffs maintain that their civil rights were violated by the manner in which the Little Rock police, led by Smith, dispersed a crowd a block from Central High School August 12, 1959. The crowd was protesting the reopening of the school with integrated classes.

The plaintiffs include six teenagers—Calvin Parrish, Leon Kizer, Glenna Paul, Marilyn Paul, Charles J. Bailey and Larry W. Buster, whose suits were filed by their parents; and three adults, Mrs. Lela Sosebee, J. D. Bass and Mrs. Mary Ellen Pritchard.

Smith and his wife died in what was ruled a murder-suicide.

with Swift and Co. to have the facilities re-opened.

River Nile, from its beginnings as a clear mountain stream until it joins the Mediterranean.

It is Dr. Ben Casey, peering anxiously over his surgical mask at the anesthetic.

It is Cary Grant making love to Katharine Hepburn in "Holiday," a 1938 motion picture.

It is an electronic scoreboard rolling vote totals in place as David Brinkley nervously twiddles his thumbs.

It is Eliot Ness confronting a wrong-doer and Grandma Clampet taking a rifle shot at a mink jacket.

Television is many things, and it is many different things to every person. Because it is so many things, how can anybody possibly say that "television" now is better or worse, or less interesting or exciting than in other seasons.

What each of us thinks about television depends, almost entirely, upon the programs we watch—and don't watch.

Perishes in Car

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — George Robert Rosa, 22, of Mountain View, was trapped in the cab of his pickup truck Wednesday night and burned to death when the vehicle struck a bridge abutment and caught fire, police said. Traffic was tied up for about 1-2 hours while firemen extinguished the flames and cleared the one-lane bridge, officers said. Rosa was employed by a wholesale gasoline distributing company in Mountain View.

A Long, Long Time

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — C. V. Robinette, a retired biology professor at Arkansas State Teachers College, and Rollie B. Miller of Florence, Ore., were unusually glad to see each other when they met this week at Conway. The two men were stationed at Le Mans, France during World War I. They hadn't seen each other since they were discharged in 1919.

Farm Bureau Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas farmers speak their minds on agricultural public affairs next week at the 28th annual convention of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation in Little Rock.

The convention will open Sunday night and continue through Tuesday night.

The main business session will be held Tuesday afternoon. The 250 delegates from county farm bureaus will vote on resolutions that will guide Farm Bureau activities in the coming year. A 40-member resolutions committee met today to draft proposals.

Speakers will include Harold F. Ohlendorf of Osceola, state Farm Bureau president; Gov. Orval E. Faubus, and Charles Marshall of Lincoln, Neb., president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

Informational conferences on cotton, rice, livestock, poultry and dairy products will be held.

Friends and Fellow Citizens:

My heartfelt thanks and deep appreciation for the friendship and genuine warmth which you have shown Betty and me during both campaigns...

I am especially grateful to our many friends who have given so generously in so many ways, and we look forward to seeing you all in the near future.

In the living room, where the three course luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Comer Boyett, the dark wood of antique Oriental furniture made a beautiful background for the tables which were covered with white Chinese cutwork cloths and centered with dainty pink chrysanthemums in small antique white china pitchers.

UN Has Nothing on This Pairs Parley

WHAT ROLE SHOULD PARENTS PLAY

Dear Helen: We are preplexed by the way of life our youngest daughter and her husband choose. To date our policy has been hands off.

She was an exceptional youngster; an "A" student in every grade, a church organist at 13; a lovely, affectionate, sweet-dispositioned child. At 16 she started dating a 17-year-old boy. They went out once a week, mostly with other youngsters and to school affairs. She was always home by 10:30 save when we gave her permission to stay out till 11:30 for some special affair.

Then, to our anguish, we discovered she was pregnant. We're a decent, highly respected family in a conservative, old-fashioned community. She quit school in her junior year. The boy graduated by the skin of his teeth. We had a clergyman give them four weeks of marriage counseling, then held a nice wedding for them in our home.

After the wedding our daughter packed up her things and went to live a few miles away with her husband and his widowed mother who worked and also kept house.

The baby is almost 11 months old now and things still don't seem just right. Our three other daughters finished their schooling, married well and are very happy. The youngest daughter's husband will have nothing to do with us, he is inconsiderate, thoughtless, lazy and utterly selfish. He works part-time at a garage, hangs around there all night then stays in bed till afternoon next day.

Our sweet young daughter never complains no matter how badly he treats her. The little money they have is spent foolishly. The baby, who is as good as gold, has absolutely no routine. My daughter's mother-in-law complains to me about her catch-as-catch-can housekeeping. Her home looks as disorganized as her life.

Should we, as her parents, have to learn a profession. If she is interested, you might let down the bars a bit and offer to underwrite the courses. Giving them an education is helping them to help themselves in the real sense.

Dear Helen: The boy with whom I go hates to admit he loves me. It's become a tug-of-war between us. Lately he's taken to bringing my room-mate home from dances. As a consequence I accept rides home with other fellows. The last girl with whom he went broke his heart. Could this be the reason for his standoffishness?—Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Why put yourself in the position of forcing your boy friend to admit he loves you. Unless his declaration is spontaneous it is meaningless. You, not he, should be standoffish. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "The Way to a Boy's Heart."

Dear Helen: I am 61, my husband 87. All the shutters flap on our house. It needs repainting, repairing and cleaning from garret to cellar. The yard is in the same sagging condition. My husband refuses to allow anyone but himself to touch the house or garden. In the past I kept things up but since being sick, am not strong enough to do all this nor, for that matter, is he. In desperation, threatened to call the health department. He said, "Go ahead!" We have been married nine years. What shall I do.—Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: Sweet talk your husband into seeing eye-to-eye with you. Men, old or young, are the same. It's all in the approach. Relax, make a game instead of chore out of the repairs and cleaning. Take into consideration his years and be correspondingly tolerant. After all, 87 is a wonderful age to attain.

Send your problem to Helen Worden, Erskine care of this news paper. Be sure to enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Dorothy Dix is a registered trademark.) (A Bell Syndicate Feature)

Many Water and Sewer Projects

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There have been so many sewer and water project applications made under the federal Accelerated Public Works Program in Arkansas the state Health Department is working day and night to process them.

Glen T. Kellogg, chief sanitarian for the state, said Wednesday 69 such applications are now being processed by his staff.

More are expected to arrive in the next 90 to 120 days, deadline for the applications.

The Health Department has to pass on each application and make a recommendation to the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, even though it is not the approving agency for the projects.

Kellogg said under current applications over $2.3 million would be spent for water improvements and about $700,000 for sewer projects.

Suicide Ruled

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Loyd Driggers, 41, of Glenwood, died Wednesday of what police termed a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head. Driggers had been in a Hot Springs hospital since Saturday, when he was involved in a shooting in which Charles N. Overman, 55, was killed. The shooting occurred at the Indianapolis Glove Co. plant at Glenwood, where both men were employed. Pike County Sheriff Froeland Stewart said the shooting would be ruled murder and suicide.

Finds Things Different From England

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everything here is a symbol. If you ask a successful American who he is, he immediately wants to show you his motor car."

The speaker of the lines is Shirley Anne Field, who is known as one of Britain's angry young ladies and also as "the pin-up girl of the English intelligentsia."

Miss Field, a film star, is 24, beautiful, red-haired and green-eyed. She appears more cheerfully outspoken than angry, however, and herself feels one reason she is flip with the tip is that she's shal-Irish.

"There is so much contrast in this country," she observed. "Ciu meet here either people who are unbelievably talented—or people who seem to have no place at all."

"I'm a cold weather girl and like fresh air. But in New York you can't open a window. They're all painted together," she said.

"When I tried to open the window in my hotel, the maid told me, the air-conditioning in this room cost $10,000—and you have to use it."

Attacking a $6 steak with gleeful relish, Shirley said that despite the fact so many things in America were a symbolic price tag she was having a high old time visiting here.

"Actually, I live in a world of symbols myself rather one of reality," she confessed. "I always feel like I'm on the threshold of maturity, but never quite through. You get very confused when you are young and in this business."

Shirley feels a close kinship to the late Marilyn Monroe. "A war wail reared in an orphanage, she went to work as a secretary at 15, saved her shillings to take drama lessons. She was a model and a television performer before winning movie recognition."

As did Marilyn Monroe, she aspires to glamor, but she resents the thought that to a studio an actress is "just a mobile, animated piece of property."

"I picked show business because it forces a kind of discipline upon one. But to be yourself takes a lot of courage. In the final analysis, you're alone in what you try to do in life," she said.

"And you get lost if you're not yourself. If you don't know who you are, who does?"

"But all I can do is act—and cook. Sometimes I feel happy only when I'm working. You need a complete dedication to self. But I have fears, and when I'm acting go."

Boy Conditioned Room

A boy's room decorated with tough-as-a-bat plastics can see him from nursery to college and after that provide extra living space for the rest of the family.

Careful selection of wall and floor coverings pays off in the growing years with good looks and minimum maintenance. Start with child-conditioned, scrubbable, stain and spot resistant wall coverings. Choose a colorful vinyl wallcovering or the new warm-looking hardwood veneer protected with clear vinyl plastic and laminated to foam cored planks. Moisture proof and noise retardant, the new paneling can be applied to any wall without special tools.

Consider a traffic conditioned floor of solid vinyl or one of 9- to 12-foot wide printed vinyl which hugs the floor without cementing. Add a splash of brilliant color with an area rug of mothproof and dirt resistant acrylic fiber created for pets and people.

Save space by using a studio couch with a firm urethane mattress. It quickly converts from bed to seating space for play and study sessions. Tailored spreads and covers of the urethane filled pillows can change color and pattern with the season and as the youngster matures. A washable, bold plaid blanket of acrylic fiber can be toted to camp, and later to college football games, in a compact carrying case.

Include in the study area a broad desk and bookcase, preferably with melamine laminate tops, for finger painting, water coloring and exhibiting plastic models; later for homework and books.

All of this means lighter housework for mother and—when the young man leaves for college—his bedroom is ready to take on new duties as guest room or family room.

ing, "You are now entering East Berlin" — or West Berlin. The signs are printed in English and German.

Members of the Richmond Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the stunt, turned out to stack up the 500 concrete blocks at 3 a.m., and stayed on to pass out the pamphlets.

National Guardsmen of Richmond's infantry Co. B, 151st Regiment, helped with traffic patrols.

Doubling as leader of the project is Lt. Kenneth Paust, commander of the company and vice president of the Junior Chamber.

The wall, erected without mortar, is two feet thick and six feet high, with an added two feet of barbed wire. The State Highway Department permitted a length of only 16 feet, blocking not quite the middle half of the 44-foot street.

Passenger car traffic on U.S. 40 is routed over 'parallel' one-way streets, largely residential, a block away on each side of the main street.

A cablegram from Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said:

"The wall in Berlin is far more

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The world's oldest leader, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, comes here today for more talk after four years of talking on a problem which may become a crisis in 1962.

Adenauer is almost 87, but still spry and tough. The dominant world leader next to him in age is Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, 12 years younger at 75. Both have one thing in common: the need for American help.

Chiang couldn't hold Formosa five minutes against the Red Chinese if it weren't for American backing. West Germany by itself couldn't keep Berlin from the Communists if the United States got timid with Russia.

It was just about four years ago that Premier Khrushchev first announced he wanted a settlement on West Berlin: meaning he wanted the Allies to get their troops out.

In that time he bustered and set deadlines which he let pass when this country and its allies wouldn't budge. This year he said he would let the American election day pass before putting the heat on again.

Between the promise and election day Khrushchev ran into the worst embarrassment of his career: the detection of his missiles on Cuba and his meek agreement to pull them out rather than face a showdown.

But Cuba was the wrong place for Russia to get involved. Berlin is much handier. It's closer to home. At this moment neither President Kennedy nor Adenauer seems to know what Khrushchev may do now.

What Adenauer wants basically, is American assurance it won't yield on Berlin or at least yield inside Communist East Germany, in a way the German feels might weaken the link between West Germany and West Berlin which is 110 miles inside East Germany.

He already has had assurance—during the Cuban crisis—that this country would not back down on Berlin. Some new assurances would probably strengthen Adenauer a bit politically. He is slowly nearing the end of his leadership.

It is easy to think that the tough American stand on Cuba would discourage the Russians from making threats on Berlin. But this reasoning overlooks a couple of points which may be extremely important to Khrushchev:

1. The longer the West can stiff-arm him on Berlin, yielding nothing although Berlin is deep inside Communist East Germany, the more the damage to the image he has tried to create of a Russia which cannot be deterred.

2. He can't go on setting deadlines and demands on a Berlin indefinitely without looking inept himself.

So, sooner or later, some action from him can be expected. The real question seems to be whether it comes this year or later.

Stalin in 1948 tried to blockade Berlin but was frustrated by the American airlift and finally abandoned the attempt. Khrushchev would hardly attempt a similar blockade without making it stick. Otherwise, he'd look ridiculous.

But making it stick would mean shooting down Allied planes flying relief to Berlin. That would—to use a phrase being overworked by military analysts—escalate into war.

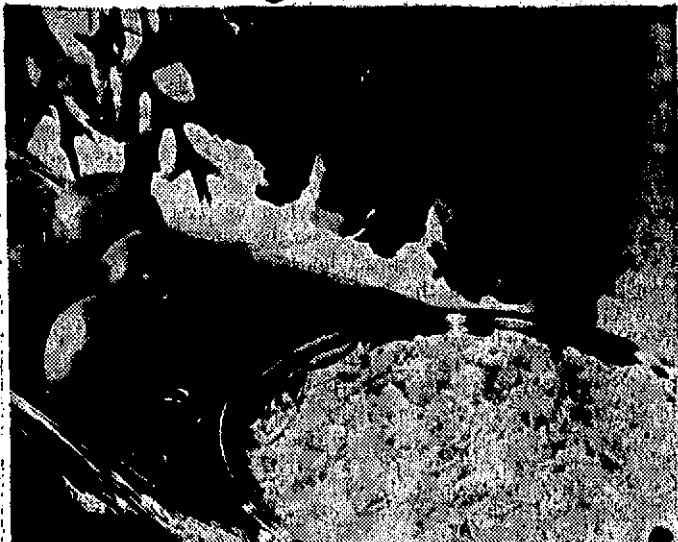

Khrushchev has already shown, in his Cuban withdrawal, that he is not apt to dash into war for the fun of it. He might try a land blockade, since the West insists on access routes to Berlin. That might mean shooting, too.

Kennedy is not anxious for conflict, either. In the end he may offer Khrushchev some proposal that will save face on both sides, still keep West Berlin out of Communist hands, and still avoid shooting.

It will be neat if it can be arranged. Adenauer undoubtedly feels that some such arrangement is inevitable.

The most baffling part of the talks between Kennedy and Adenauer is that even if the West should offer some mild compromise it can't be sure Khrushchev would accept it.

Florida Orange Rice With Game

Sweet, juicy Florida oranges are available now—and just in time for the hunting season. The golden globes of luscious eating herald the start of the fresh fruit season, and they're as plentiful as the game birds now being stalked by hunters everywhere.

The tart-sweet flavor and bouquet of oranges go wonderfully well with duck, pheasant, partridge or quail—whether the hunter in your family bags the birds or you invade the game preserve of your local market. The fruitiness of Florida oranges provides a natural complement to the gaminess of fowl.

Using your favorite white rice, do it up specially for a fowl feast by making Florida orange rice, a fresh-tasting gourmet accompaniment for fowl. Serve it as a stuffing or side dish.

Florida Orange Rice
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 cup Florida orange juice
2 tablespoons silvered Florida orange rind
1 1/4 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 cup raw rice

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Add celery and onion; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Stir in orange rind and juice, water, salt and thyme; bring to a boil. Add rice, slowly. Cover; reduce heat and cook 25 minutes.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Bishops Told to Avoid All Luxury

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Bishops at the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council were urged today to avoid "a display of luxury and satisfaction of personal vanity" in their churches and ministry.

A spokesman said several of the 23 prelates who addressed a closed session in St. Peter's said bishops should recognize the elements of simplicity.

The council fathers discussed sacred art and music and the instruments of worship—altar vestments and objects. These subjects are included in a project that proposes new guidelines and changes in the public worship of Catholicism. Today's was the last session on liturgy, or public worship, before debate starts on sources of divine revelation.

The council spokesman said several speakers noted that the church has always accepted all forms of religious art through the centuries without adopting any particular style of its own.

Some bishops urged creation of "superior schools of sacred art" that would blend both religious inspiration and the best norms of art training.

Other bishops speaking before the 2,200 council fathers at the session, the spokesman said, stressed that sacred art must find its complement in the special traditions of different regions.

Addresses District
EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., addressed both old and new constituents in a television talk over KTVE, El Dorado, Monday night. Harris' district gained 11 counties through redistricting prior to the Nov. 6 general election. He said he was greatly concerned about the formulation of the new district and said it had taken a long time to bring about understanding of the arrangement. Harris defeated Warren Liebling of Pine Bluff in his bid for reelection.

New Wall Is Strung Up in America

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — A Berlin wall was stacked up in downtown Richmond early today to slow traffic enough for a moment's thought about American freedom.

The concrete block wall, topped by a barbed wire entanglement, forces Main Street traffic, plus truck traffic on busy U.S. 40, into single file.

The sidewalk on each side of the busy street is partly blocked by a smaller wall.

Copies of the Bill of Rights are being handed out to motorists and pedestrians as they make their way around the barricades.

For strangers driving through, the only specific explanation of the project is a sign a bloc kaway from each side of the wall, saying—someone else—well, those fears go."

New self-rising flour recipes inside specially-marked sacks of Dixie Lily Flour contains these make-in-minutes FRUIT 'N NUT CAKE AND COBBLER RECIPES

Aunt Sarah's Strawberry Jam Cake... a one-layer cake with a delicate pink color and a delicious strawberry flavor. Serve plain or topped with sweetened whipped cream.

Spice Raisin Cake has a subtle blend of cinnamon and allspice. Packs well in lunches, or may be left in baking pan, iced and conveniently carried to picnics.

Glazed Apple Cake has a stand-out flavor all its own! Immediately after removing it from the oven a confecturer's sugar glaze is spread over the apple slices.

Orange Date Nut Cake keeps unusually well... even improves in flavor! Dates and pecans are added to the batter, while orange juice and sugar sauce is poured over the hot cake.

The Banana Cake Ring has a distinct, just-right banana flavor. Bake it in a ring mold and ice with a confectioner's sugar frosting. Keeps very well.

Cranberry Apple Crisp is most satisfying combination of fresh apples and plump fresh cranberries. Dixie Lily Self-Rising Flour, brown sugar and shortening make the crisp topping.

Brownie Pudding is a unique pudding and sauce in one dish! Baked together, the sauce will be in the bottom of the pan. Rich, tempting chocolate flavor.

Fresh Peach Cobbler was especially created to use fresh fruit, but even with canned peach slices it's a taste treat. You'll find it very easy to make.

Easy Peach Cobbler differs from the usual cobbler because peach slices are baked on top of the batter. Serve warm, topped with whipped cream or ice cream.

Cherry Pineapple Cobbler. This recipe is the result of many, long experiments using different combinations of fruit. It's a new flavor in cobblers.

"Because of the increasing popularity of self-rising flour, many of you have requested self-rising flour recipes. As a result, I have created a series of these recipe folders. This is the first one. I hope you'll enjoy using it."

Boy Conditioned Room

A boy's room decorated with tough-as-a-bat plastics can see him from nursery to college and after that provide extra living space for the rest of the family.

Careful selection of wall and floor coverings pays off in the growing years with good looks and minimum maintenance. Start with child-conditioned, scrubbable, stain and spot resistant wall coverings. Choose a colorful vinyl wallcovering or the new warm-looking hardwood veneer protected with clear vinyl plastic and laminated to foam cored planks. Moisture proof and noise retardant, the new paneling can be applied to any wall without special tools.

Consider a traffic conditioned floor of solid vinyl or one of 9- to 12-foot wide printed vinyl which hugs the floor without cementing. Add a splash of brilliant color with an area rug of mothproof and dirt resistant acrylic fiber created for pets and people.

Save space by using a studio couch with a firm urethane mattress. It quickly converts from bed to seating space for play and study sessions. Tailored spreads and covers of the urethane filled pillows can change color and pattern with the season and as the youngster matures. A washable, bold plaid blanket of acrylic fiber can be toted to camp, and later to college football games, in a compact carrying case.

Include in the study area a broad desk and bookcase, preferably with melamine laminate tops, for finger painting, water coloring and exhibiting plastic models; later for homework and books.

All of this means lighter housework for mother and—when the young man leaves for college—his bedroom is ready to take on new duties as guest room or family room.

"Until shortly ago," Columbine related, "I was an inmate of a select school for girls conducted by Miss Egeria Cordwainer. I had been such an inmate from early childhood. Ultimately I became secretary to Miss Cordwainer and teacher of certain subjects." She paused. "Such education as I did not derive from books I did derive from association with girls under 10 years of age. Which is unusual, but not without practical value."

"That," said Miss Stubblefield, "I can imagine."

"My father, who had deserted me in babyhood, died recently and willed to me the hotel property in Phoenix known as 'The Grove of Daphne. Which my experience ill-equipped me to operate."

"There are a couple of opinions about that," interrupted Barbara Green.

"Complications arose, both malicious and fortuitous," Columbine said. "The fact that I took the wrong suitcase getting off the train, and that this piece of baggage, among other objects, contained a fortune in jewels, a lot of burlar's tools and objects utilized in the practice of black magic is quite beside the point."

"Are you, by any chance, what they call a 'black cat'?" Miss Stubblefield asked.

"I was keeping succinctly to the point, as you asked."

"After you make four point," Miss Stubblefield said drily, "we shall revert to the somewhat abnormal suitcase. Proceed."

"A rival hotel proprietor sought to buy my hotel," Columbine said. "When I refused to sell, there was sabotage and malicious mischief."

"Is his name to be disclosed?"

"It is Lucius Quentline," Columbine said.

"Ah!" Miss Stubblefield exclaimed significantly.

"Which," Columbine said, "brings us to the point."

"Namely?"

"Procuring for myself insurance against further dependences."

"And how would that concern me?"

"Mr. Quentline," said Columbine, "plans to add greatly to the size of his hotel, the Desert Dunes. My stratagem is to — er, balk that project. And, in addition, to cause him warranted anxiety as to the continued success of his huge hotel."

"How do you propose to effect this objective?"

"You are the owner of a tract of land, 15 acres in area, abutting upon Mr. Quentline's holding. My hope is to obtain an option on that piece of land."

"Indeed? To be used in what manner?"

"Did you chance to read a story this morning in the paper stating the possibility of a Chicago meat-packing establishment's building a plant in Phoenix, complete with feeding pens for cattle?"

"I did so, with little pleasure," said Miss Stubblefield.

"I must confess," Columbine said, not penitently this time, "to another example of, shall we say, misdirection. I caused that story to be published. My intention, if I can reach agreement with you, is to add oil to the fire by—and ostentatiously — causing surveys to go to work on your property, and bringing in other artists whose presence would indicate large building operations."

"Miss Druggel," Miss Stubblefield said gravely, "you were born too late. In another and perhaps better day, you would have become a captain of industry, if not, in the words of the first President Roosevelt, a malefactor of great wealth."

Columbine waited while Miss Stubblefield sat in brown study. At last the old lady asked, "Is it within the bounds of possibility that you would sell to Mr. Quentline?"

"Only if the sale assured me freedom from further molestation."

Miss Stubblefield nodded. "In which case you would mulct the man?"

"Definitely. However, in such an eventuality, I should expect to divide the profit equally with you."

"You would not agree to give me all the profit?" Miss Stubblefield asked slyly.

Columbine's lovely chin set stubbornly. "You would not be entitled to all. It would be my adroitness that brought about the profit. I feel I am being generous in giving you half."

Miss Stubblefield nodded her head approvingly. "I would have thought the worse of you had you been willing to surrender all the fruits of your sharpness. I shall give you my answer tomorrow. I understand you offer me a certain sum for an option on this property for a certain length of time."

"Yes, ma'am," Columbine answered.

"Meantime, without prejudice," Miss Stubblefield said, "you may invade my property with surveyors and engineers to create your ostentatious impression of alarming activity."

Cooper Next Astronaut to Orbit

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., (AP)—Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., a dedicated flier who handled the controls of a plane at the age of 6, will be the pilot for the next U.S. manned space flight—a 24-hour orbital mission scheduled for next April.

The 35-year-old Air Force major was named Tuesday to carry the banner on America's next big step toward its target of landing men on the moon in this decade. The full day flight will swing him 18 times around the globe, triple the six-orbit ride made last month by astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Informed of his selection while working at Cape Canaveral, Cooper said he was "very delighted that I have been chosen. I've been working toward this goal for a long time."

At their Houston, Tex., home, Cooper's wife, Trudy — whom he taught to fly soon after they were married—said she was happy and pleased with the choice.

She said Cooper called her from the Cape and broke the news shortly after their two daughters, Camala, 13, and Janita, 12, returned from school.

The astronaut's mother, Mrs. Leroy G. Cooper Sr., who lives near the tiny mountain town of Carbonade, Colo., reported she was very happy with the selection. Her husband, the spark behind Gordon's early flying interest, died two years ago.

Cooper, a native of Shawnee, Okla., is the only eligible member of the seven-man Mercury astronaut team who has not rocketed into space. He was backup pilot for Schirra's flight.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., named Cooper's backup—blazed the trail with a 15-minute suborbital space journey in May 1961. Virgil I. Grissom followed the same course. John H. Glenn Jr., and Malcolm Scott Carpenter made three-orbit flights earlier this year before Schirra went aloft.

The seventh Mercury pilot, Donald K. Slayton, has been grounded because of a heart flutter.

Cooper's flight will provide further data on how man is affected by prolonged weightlessness and other space phenomena.

The flight will not match the twin flights last August of Soviet cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich. Both circled the globe simultaneously. Nikolayev remained up for more than 94 hours and Popovich for 70 hours.

Cooper's father, an Air Corps colonel who was a close friend of such aviation pioneers as Wiley Post and Amelia Earhart, took his son flying almost before he could walk.

When he was 6, young Cooper took the controls of a plane under his father's watchful eye. He flew his first solo at 16.

Cooper, called "Gordo" by his fellow astronauts, entered the Marine Corps after high school graduation in 1945.

After discharge he attended the University of Hawaii for three years. Here he met and married Trudy. She soon had a pilot's license and the couple explored the Hawaiian Islands by plane. They took Camala flying soon after she was born.

Cooper entered the Air Force in 1949 and had assignments in Germany, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, and Edwards Air

Russia Dumps Oil to Disrupt the Market

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Political oil is just one of many problems besetting the American oil industry this year. But this one at least had better be left to the federal government, says an industry leader today. By political oil he means that which the Soviet Union has dumped on scattered markets to disrupt them.

And a U.S. government official agrees that world events call for stronger bonds between the petroleum industry and the federal government.

Soviet oil in itself could be met competitively by American companies, says L. F. McCollum, Force Base, Calif., where he helped design and test several jets.

PLUMP, full-breasted turkey, perfectly roasted, is a main dish that is virtually certain to perk up jaded appetites.

president of Continental Oil Co. Houston, Tex. But Moscow has used it for other than economic purposes.

McCollum, chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, reminds fellow oilmen meeting in Chicago:

"This threat goes far beyond the oil industry. This is not just an attack on petroleum or any other single industry. It is part of a planned campaign to wreck the free enterprise system worldwide. More often than not, Soviet oil deals are made for political reasons rather than commercial, with world political influence the objective instead of financial profit."

The general official—John A. Kelly, assistant secretary of the Interior Department for natural resources—speaking today at the same meeting, stressed the industry relationship. "A prime object is preparing the oil and gas industry for meeting supply and demand requirements in an efficient manner. Rankings high are both 'national security and economic growth.'"

The Soviet moves which have upset markets in which American oil companies with international operations had a stake have concentrated on offering oil at prices well below the American. U.S. oilmen stress that this can be done because the Kremlin can set any price that suits its political purposes without regard to cost of production—and certainly without any need to show a profit as the privately owned American firms must strive to do.

The Best Turkey Ever!

Two factors contribute to making the truly splendid holiday bird: just the proper seasoning and just the proper roasting time. For the finest in flavor, use Ac-cent's monosodium glutamate along with the salt and pepper to provide a more succulent, delicious turkey. Shake it inside the cavity and on the outside of the bird to point up the sweet, delicate flavor of the meat and make it seem juicier, too. And be sure to include Ac-cent in the stuffing and gravy, too.

Roast Turkey

Wash turkey in cold running water. Pat inside dry with paper toweling; leave outside moist. Use 1/2 teaspoon Ac-cent per pound of turkey ready to stuff. Sprinkle on skin and in body cavities. Sprinkle skin and cavities with salt and pepper. Stuff turkey. Fasten neck skin to body with skewer. Push legs under band of skin at tail, or tie them to tail. Place turkey, breast side up, on rack in shallow oven roasting pan. If desired, make a loose covering of "tent" of aluminum foil. Roast turkey in a slow oven (325°F.) according to timetable.

Congressmen From State Are Powerful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' congressional delegation next year will be small but mighty. Numerically, it's being trimmed 25 per cent—from eight to six—but man for man it stands to pack more legislative authority than any other state delegation.

Its six members will hold first major committee chairmanships, top spot on several important subcommittees and several positions of strategic importance. Take the Senate. Sen. John L. McClellan, D., Arkansas' senior senator, is a power. He is chairman of the Government Operations Committee and of its investigating subcommittee. He is sixth Democrat on the Appropriations Committee and chairman of one of its subcommittees. He's also fourth Democrat on the Judiciary Committee and third Democrat on the Joint Committee on Immigration and National Policy. Additionally, he is a member of the Democratic steering committee and his voice is listened to in that party council. At the age of 66, McClellan next year will be seventh-ranking senator in point of service. Right behind is the state's junior senator, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D. Just reelected to his fourth year term, Fulbright is chairman of the vital Foreign Relations Committee, is 11th Democrat on the Finance Committee and third on the Joint Economic Committee. Fulbright, who has served in the Senate two years less than McClellan, will be 11th among the senators in point of service. On the House side, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D., again will be chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handles tax bills, social security matters and among other things, that hot potato known as Medicare. He'll be in for a busy two years. The delegation's other House committee chairman is Rep. Oren Harris, D., who heads the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, an important and active group.

As chairmen of two of the more important House committees, Mills and Harris will work closely with the Democratic leadership in that body. Rep. E. C. Gathings, D., is fourth Democrat on the Agriculture Committee and head of its cotton subcommittee. Rep. J. W. Trimble, D., is 5th Democrat on the important Rules Committee and will retain the post even if the House decides to cut the size of that group back to its pre-1960 size. This committee was increased from eight Democrats and four Republicans to ten and five after a bitter rules fight in 1960. If it is cut back, Trimble will not be affected. All Arkansas House members have long service to their credit. Mills and Gathings recently were

New Talking Globe

For a new adventure in learning, here's a world globe that tells the story of our planet on two 7-inch (33 1/2 rpm) records. Lowell Thomas, Jr. narrates the 30-minute "Story of Mr. World" against a background of real-life sound effects, including earthquakes, volcanoes, jets, countdown and blastoff of space ships. Youngsters and grownups alike who use the globe as they listen will follow the spaceman as he orbits the earth, explore the mysteries of gravity, the moon, our solar system—even take a round-the-world freighter trip with all its sights and sounds. 24-page record album of pictures and stories supplementing the records has discoveries and explorations from cave man to spaceman. The 12-inch "Talking Globe" with raised relief surface detaches easily from its base for close-up study, satellite tracking—comes with a device for measuring air and ship distances, jet flying time. The complete set costs no more than you'd expect to pay for the globe alone. You will find it in book, stationery and department stores.

She will remain in Washington, having been named deputy assistant secretary of state for cultural and education affairs. She will take the new job upon expiration of her House term. Both Alford and Mrs. Norrell now are in process of closing out their offices. Alford's district was
